

PATRICK DEGERMAN

Lives in Helsinki / Finland

Studied at Aalto University / Design

Expeditions : - Five expeditions to Antarctica
- Over forty trips and expeditions to Greenland, Iceland and Spitsbergen
- Expeditions to Amazonas and Borneo jungles
- five expeditions to different deserted islands in the Pacific
- Climbed around 200 mountains and 16 first ascents (Mount SISU, Mount Patapata, Mount Finland)

Books : "Wall climbing" / 1998
"Will you be an adventurer" / 2002
"Pata Explorer" / 2013

Lectures: 100-120 lectures / year
"Speaker of the year" in Finland 2006

Ehdotus henkilölle joka esittelee minut :

Mukana meidän tapahtumassa on kaveri joka on tehnyt n. 40 retkikuntaa ympäri maailmaa Etelämantereelta pääkallometsästäjien Borneoon. Tänään hän aikoo viedä meidät mukanaan hyvin, hyvin kylmään paikkaan missä tarvittiin syvää yhteistyötä, innovatiivisuutta ja suomalaista Sisua päästääkseen tavoitteeseen. Pata, ole hyvä !

- Short version -

Patrick Degerman is most likely the only person in Finland who can call himself an Explorer. This day Patrick has planned and done approximately 40 expeditons to unvisited areas on Antarctica, Greenland, Spitsbergen Himalaya, Amazonas and Borneo where he have done 16 first scents. He just came back from Africa and is preparing the next expedition to Antarctica. In 2006 Pata was elected "Speaker of the year" in Finland.
Pata – the stage is yours.....

- Longer version -

During our daily work we face different kind of challenges and problems. Which route should you take when you don't have a map to guide you ? How do you get your team working together ? What if the communication doesn't work, or if you are afraid of doing something ?

When attending unknown areas you will face problems that you can't find any specific answers to. In an unknown situation, you have to be able to step outside your comfortzone and use new models of thought and action, and sometimes fairly unorthodox methods to succeed. Today the Finnish Explorer Patrick Degerman will guide you through this jungle of uncertainty, by taking you on an expedition to an unknown mountain on the coldest, windiest and driest continent on earth – Antarctica

Pata – the stage is yours.....

.... or then you can say what you feel at that moment, and I will pick it up and start from there ;)